

Liquefaction Potential

Ventura River Watershed

Liquefaction Zone Area - Areas where historic occurrence of liquefaction, or local geological, geotechnical and groundwater conditions indicate a potential for permanent ground displacements such that mitigation as defined in Public Resources Code Section 2693(c) would be required.

Data Source:
Seismic Hazard Zone Mapping 2003:
Department of Conservation California Geological Survey
Map Created by GreenInfo Network using Esri software, Aug. 2013 www.greeninfo.org